Overview

A Regulation Crowdfunding investment round has been launched by GigaWatt Inc. to raise up to $1,235,000 for scaling its DIY PV and battery storage platform nationwide. With federal tax credits phasing down and residential electricity costs up nearly 40% since 2021, homeowners are caught between expensive turnkey. The California-based solar and storage provider is seeking to raise more than $1. The two phase project, if fully funded, is planned for completion about two years after funding closes, the company says. Image Source: GigaWatt US-based. Fullerton, Calif. announced an exciting development for both seasoned and novice investors. This initiative comes at a pivotal moment.
