Solar glass in Burundi

Overview

A critical shipment of solar cells and glass is stranded at a seaport over 1,400 kilometers away, caught in logistical delays. This scenario is far from hypothetical—it's a primary operational challenge for entrepreneurs establishing manufacturing facilities in landlocked. Imagine your new, state-of-the-art solar module factory is fully assembled and ready for production. The staff is trained and the power is on, but the assembly line remains silent. The reason?
