The power of the rooftop base station is turned off Is there any battery left

Overview

Your Base Station includes a battery backup that allows your system to keep working if the power goes out or your Base Station is accidentally unplugged. The 24 hour power back up is a useful feature, but that you should have added a power button too which helps to power off the device when required like if we're moving from one home to another and need it to be turned off for a few. Rebooting your base station is simple: Simply press and release the reset button at the back of the base station with a paper clip or a similar tool. This process works for every base station model or generation on the market. Pro Tip: You should simply press the reset button, NOT hold it, as that. There is no way to "Turn off" the Base Station. A few options are to just leave the Alarm in the Disarmed mode and switch to [Self Monitoring] (<https://support.com/hc/en-us/articles/115005322066-Understanding-Monitoring>). When an alarm goes off, this feature is designed to ensure your base station doesn't. You need to set the sleep mode option in base station settings in steam vr, the default one is that they are always active, hence why the light is green when you quit steamvr. Wow, so glad I happened to see this thread, I'd never have realized.
