Weather station uses a 40-foot folding container

Overview

While modular container homes take weeks to ship and assemble, folding models collapse to 1/5 their size, allowing 12 units to fit in a single 40-foot container. This cuts logistics costs by 70% and makes transport via truck, ship, or even helicopter possible—critical. At the core is an ultra-high-performance insulation system featuring EPS/PU composite sandwich panels with a thermal conductivity as low as 0. This isn't just insulation—it's a thermal barrier that keeps interiors cozy at -60°C in the Arctic and cool at 60°C in the desert.
